

LINCOLN HIGHWAY IS OPENED WITH JOINT CEREMONY LABOR DAY

Big Crowd Attended Celebration in Prairieville Good Talks Heard.

Not in many years has old Palmyra township entertained such a crowd as that which gathered at Prairieville Monday to participate in the celebration of the completion and opening of the Lincoln Highway pavement between Dixon and Sterling, the affair being the culmination of arrangements made by the commercial associations of the two cities. Hundreds of people from the cities attended the countryside round about was represented even more completely than the towns. The members of several groups of picnicers who were spending the day at Prairieville also joined in the celebration, swelling the crowd to well over a thousand.

Prades From Two Cities.

At 1:30 p. m. auto parades simultaneously left the two cities, the processions being headed by the bands of the respective municipalities, and they arrived at the Prairieville school yard at almost the same time. But long before the processions arrived at the midway point the roads about the park were jammed with automobiles and the park was thronged with holiday pleasure-seekers. The influx of the celebrants from Sterling and Dixon swelled the crowd to proportions beyond the expectations of the promoters, and Lee County Consul A. B. Whitcombe and Secretaries Carroll D. King and M. D. John of the Dixon and Sterling Chambers of Commerce respectively beamed with pleasure at the manifestation of public interest in the opening of the permanent hard road between the two cities.

Several Fine Speeches.

After several selections by the bands Chairman A. B. Whitcombe, of Dixon, called the meeting to order, and in a short address set forth the purpose of the gathering and introduced Mayor James P. Overholser, of Sterling. Mr. Overholser, an early settler of the vicinity, recalled the laying out of the roadway between the two cities, and attributed its crookedness to the fact that the early trail markers had become lost in the prairie and consequently had "straggled" about a bit in their progress, but succeeding travelers followed their meandering trail until finally the road became so beaten down that it was an established trail. As the Sterling executive continued his remarks he turned to Dixon's mayor, Mark D. Smith, grasping his hand, and as the latter extended a mighty cheer went up from the crowd.

Mayor Smith, regretting that he could not recall incidents of early life in Palmyra or the two cities, extolled the cities which the completed highway connects—but he maintained that Dixonites think they have a little better town than Sterling, and he invited Sterling people to use the new pavement to journey to Dixon, promising "we'll treat you well."

State Supt. Spoke.

State Supt. of Highways S. E. Bradt, of DeKalb, delivered the principal address of the afternoon. He outlined in brief the uphill campaign that had been waged in Illinois to "pull the state out of the mud," and told of some of the things the department hopes to do for the state if maintained in office. He was listened to with the closest of attention and was heartily cheered at the conclusion of his address.

Hon. James Wilson, of Polo, former member of the State Highway Commission, delivered the last address of the afternoon. He reviewed, as a boy who had grown up there, the early history of the territory through which the fine strip of cement roadway passes—Palmyra's part in the Civil War, in good roads, improved farms, etc., and concluded by paying a fine tribute to Homer E. Tice and S. E. Bradt as the two greatest hard roads men in the state, and to them he gave the major part of the credit for the steps in this direction which Illinois is now taking.

The afternoon's program closed with music by the massed bands.

Think Local Prisoner is One of Bandit Gang

Henry Lewis, who has several aliases, and was arrested last week for stealing a tire from a truck, east of Dixon on the Daysville road, is wanted by the police of Forrest Park. Lewis is believed to be one of a gang of three bandits who held up and robbed a saloon keeper in Forrest Park about a week ago and then escaped by stealing a Ford touring car belonging to Ernest Garling of that place.

Mr. Garling arrived Saturday afternoon and returned with his car. Lewis was to receive a preliminary hearing in Justice Hanekann's court this morning, but a continuance was taken until Saturday morning at ten o'clock. It is expected that the Forrest Park police will come to Dixon with a warrant for his arrest.

TWELVE DEAD IN HOLIDAY WRECK; TO INVESTIGATE

Nearly 100 Injured in Interurban Wreck Near Denver.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Denver, Colo., Sept. 7.—With 12 dead and 98 persons injured, five probably fatally, as the result of a head-on collision of interurban trains near Globeville yesterday, Adams county officials today began an investigation to fix responsibility for the catastrophe.

The accident occurred shortly after a special train carrying excursionists to Eldorado Springs left Globeville, a Denver suburb. The regular train, behind schedule crashed around a curve, one-half mile from Globeville and into the special train while motormen of both trains slammed on their brakes in a vain effort to halt the speeding cars.

"If I had only gotten a time card in the morning before I started out the whole thing would never have happened," said Conductor H. W. Schulze of the special train.

James Murphy, brakeman on the special train, declared the clearance slip never should have been given by the conductor at Globeville unless the train was clear.

Begin Investigation.

Officials of Adams county where the accident occurred, only a short distance from the Denver city boundary, today began an investigation of the wreck. Statements of surviving trainmen and company officials agree that the outbound car, a holiday special should have had the right of way on the single track where the accident occurred.

DEMPSEY'S SHARE OF FIGHT RECEIPTS ARE $55,000--THREE R'DS

Champion Made Short Work of Challenger in Benton Harbor Fight.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Benton Harbor, Mich., Sept. 7.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, received $55,000 for battering Billy Miske, the St. Paul challenger to defeat in the third round of their scheduled 10 round bout here yesterday, according to a statement of the receipts given out today by Floyd Fitzsimmons, promoter of the contest.

The total attendance was 11,348 and the total receipts were $134,904, including state and war tax. According to the articles of the agreement Dempsey was guaranteed $50,000 with a privilege of accepting 50 per cent of the receipts. Miske fought on a straight guarantee of $25,000.

No Broken Bones.

After the knockout it was reported that one of Miske's ribs had been broken by the terrific punch he had received in the second round, but the challenger was examined by two physicians after he reached his training camp and they agreed there was no fracture. The spot under Miske's heart still was red and sore today from the effects of the punch, which, Miske admitted, was the blow that really started him toward defeat. His ribs are bruised and his jaw is very sore, but otherwise he is none the worse from his experience.

Dempsey At Dance.

Dempsey did not bear a mark of the battle. After he had dinner with Promoter Fitzsimmons and a party of friends last night he spent the rest of the evening at a summer pavilion in St. Joseph. He planned to leave for Chicago late this afternoon and will immediately go east in search of new opponents to conquer. Promoter Fitzsimmons declared the contest was a success in every way.

Miske Shed Tears.

Miske was heart broken over his defeat, he left the ring in tears as he had hoped to stay the limit with Dempsey, as he had done in their two previous engagements. His father and wife were ringside spectators.

Story of Fight.

RINGSIDE—Miske's weight was announced at 187 while Dempsey's was announced as 188. The ring was cleared at 4:27 central time. Miske hooked a left to the head. Dempsey hooked a right and left to the head as they came in. Dempsey missed a left hook but landed two rights to the head. Dempsey drove a right to the head. Dempsey landed a little to the mouth. Dempsey drove a right to the head, and they exchanged punches to the body as they came together in a clinch. The bell sounded with both men fighting in the center of the ring.

ROUND TWO—They rushed into a clinch. Referee Dougherty had difficulty breaking them. Dempsey landed a left hook to the chin and followed it with a right cross. He floored Miske with a right hand punch and the challenger took the count of five. Miske fell into a clinch to protect himself. Dempsey landed three lefts to the jaw, one the break away and a half dozen hard rights to the body. The champion missed a right swing to the head, and drove Miske into his own corner, hooking him with a left to the chin.

Miske started to his feet, Dempsey swung over the finishing blow with a right to the chin and Miske crumpled in his corner completely knocked out.

A Ford car belonging to Harry Emmerson of this city, was taken from the northwest corner of the court house last evening, the theft being discovered by the owner at 8:40 and at once reported to the police. Parties residing in the neighborhood reported to the police that two young men carrying a suit case had left the car at that place. The machine was returned to its owner undamaged.

The police believe that automobile thieves attempted to steal the car but not being acquainted with the roads out of the city, drove in on Peoria avenue, where the street is torn up for the new paving and fearing that they might be apprehended in hunting a roadway out of the city, abandoned the car.

Car Stolen Here is Found By VanBibber

A Ford touring car belonging to Herman Mismen of this city, which was stolen near the corner of Second street and Peoria March 31, has been recovered through the activity of Chief Van Bibber. The car was traced to a small mining town, Standard, Ill., in Putnam county, and was recovered by the chief Sunday.

The car was found in the possession of William Cassantino, an Italian saloon keeper. He told Chief Van Bibber that a tall stranger, known as Sigler, a Pole, came to Standard with the car several weeks ago. The man, who was about 28 years of age, remained in Standard and was married to a young lady at that place, later removing to Toluca, Ill. Inquiry at that place disclosed the fact that they had moved to some point in California.

The car had been driven about 700 miles since being stolen, but was in very good condition. Three of the tires were on it when taken were still in use. The saloonist surrendered the car to Chief Van Bibber who drove it to Dixon and returned it to its owner.

MOORE GIVES SENATE COMMITTEE EVIDENCE OFFERED BY GOV. COX

Tells Investigators They Do Not Seek Best Evidence of Big Fund.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Sept. 7.—The senatorial committee investigating campaign expenditures "is not seeking the best evidence" to prove Governor Cox's charges against the Republican party, Edmund H. Moore, Youngstown, the governor's personal representative told the committee on the stand today.

Moore told Senator Kenyon there were men better able to tell of the Republican plans than either he or Governor Cox, and asked why Colonel William Boyce Thompson, of New York, chairman of the Republican ways and means committee, and the "sixty men of the paid organization" were not called.

Stack of Evidence.

Governor Cox has no evidence in support of his charges outside of what Moore brought to Chicago with him the witness said. As he spoke he unfolded a massive brief case and took out a stack of papers that apparently numbered several hundred sheets.

Governor Cox sent him to Chicago, Mr. Moore said, to "give the committee the list from whom the senators could get the information to support the governor's charges." He mentioned Harry M. Blair, first assistant to Fred W. Upham, Republican national treasurer, and several other employees of Upham's office.

"Have you all the leads Governor Cox has," Senator Kenyon asked.

"I couldn't say as to that."

"He didn't ask you to give us just part of his information?"

"Certainly not. But the Republican bulletin and the Republican papers furnish all the leads necessary."

"Governor Cox has no evidence outside what you have brought to us?" the Senator continued.

"I think not."

Signs of friction developed when Chairman Kenyon questioned Mr. Moore about an interview he gave newspaper correspondents last Thursday when he appeared to testify but was not called.

The chairman asked Mr. Moore if he said that the committee was afraid to call him to the stand, and if he had said the committee was not seeking the evidence to prove Governor Cox's charges.

"I did not," the witness exclaimed. "You don't need to get angry," Senator Kenyon said.

"I am not getting angry. What I said was that you were not seeking the best evidence. And I say it again. You are not."

"Did you say, 'if the committee wants to it can get the men here who will prove the falsity or truth of Gov. Cox's charges in 48 hours?'" asked Senator Kenyon.

"Well, if I did not say it, then I say it now," responded Mr. Moore.

Upham Mistaken?

Mr. Moore said he was sure that Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican national committee would not testify to untruths, but he was equally sure that the Republican official was a victim of either mistakes or bad bookkeeping when he testified concerning the quotas assigned various states.

Senator Reed protested that Senator Kenyon was seeking what the witness did not know, rather than what he knew.

"You can question him in your own way when your turn comes," retorted the Iowa Senator and then recharged from Governor Cox's Wheeling speech to the effect that "powerful interests" were scheming to buy government control and from the South Bend speech, that so far as Republican contributions were concerned, "the sky is the limit." He also read a Cox statement that $500,000 had been raised in Ohio "in the twinkling of an eye."

In answering Senator Kenyon's direct question of men's name who knew about the Ohio fund, Mr

Today's Market Report

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)

Grains Are Firm on Chicago Board Today

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Persistent buying on the part of export interests had the strengthening effect, today, on the wheat market.

Besides the government crop report tomorrow was expected to show a sharp reduction of the estimated yield of spring wheat. Opening prices, which ranged from 1/4c decline to 1/4c advance, with December 2.40@2.41 and March 2.36@2.37, were followed by slight further gains and then some thing off a reaction.

Subsequently, northwestern advices of damage to grain in shock counted as a bullish factor, the close was firm 1/4 to 3/4c net higher with December 2.41 to 2.41 1/4 and March 2.38. Liberal receipts weakened Sept. delivery of corn, but later months sympathized with wheat strength. After opening 1/4c off to 1/4c higher, including Dec. at 1.19 to 1.19 1/4, the market hardened all around but then eased down somewhat.

Unfavorable weather conditions counted more or less against the bears. Prices closed firm, 1/4 to 3/4c net higher, with Sept. 1.37 1/2 to 1.37 3/4 and Dec. 1.20 1/2 to 1.20 3/4. Oats were governed by the action of corn, starting at 1/4c decline to 1/4c advance, and then scoring a little increased gain.

Higher quotations on hogs helped give firmness to provisions. Nearly all the business was in land.

Enjoys Good Health for First Time in Twenty-five Years—Praises Tanlac.

"Since I started taking Tanlac I have only gained thirty pounds in weight, but for the first time in twenty-five years I am enjoying good health," said J. J. Craig, of 421 North Madison street, Bloomington, Ill., recently.

"Yes, sir, I am fifty years of age," he continued, "and twenty-five of these years have been spent in misery and suffering without a let-up until I began taking Tanlac. I was never able to eat a thing without filling up with gas afterwards and having such intense cramping pains in my stomach I could hardly stand them. Why, at times I would have these spells of cramps while at work, and have to be taken home, where I would lie for hours almost unconscious. I was all run down and weak, and would lay out before I had worked half a day, and very often had to quit and go home. But, thanks to Tanlac, this is all a thing of the past, now."

"Tanalac has simply made a new man of me, and it has given me good health, something I never expected to have again. I can sit down, now, and eat anything without it hurting me the least bit. I am never troubled with gas and never have the least sign of a pain in my stomach. I feel strong and vigorous all the time, and am able to work every day and all day long with the greatest ease. No, sir, I wouldn't take all the money in Bloomington for what Tanlac has done for me, and I expect to praise it as long as I live."

Tanalac is sold in Dixon by the Public Drug & Book Co. and by the leading druggists in every town.

SAY IMPLEMENT MANUFACTURERS BOOSTED PRICE

Trade Commission Charges "Concerted Action" in Report.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Sept. 7.—Methods alleged by the Federal Trade Commission to have been used by manufacturers of farm implements to advance prices through "concerted action" are described, it became known today in a report of the commission's investigation which was authorized by the Senate.

The Commission announced last night that it had recommended the reopening of anti-trust proceedings against the International Harvester company and the institution of court proceedings against implement manufacturers and dealers whom the commission asserted have illegally increased prices.

Its investigation, the Trade Commission declared, disclosed that between 1914 and 1918 prices of farm implements advanced 73 per cent. Advances in the costs and expenses of manufacturers and dealers did not warrant the commission's finding, an increase of this amount.

Discussing methods which the commission charges officers and members of implement manufacturers' associations used to bring about and maintain high price levels, the report states that "price comparison meetings" were held at which "advances in prices to be made or intended to be made were discussed."

COLONY PATIENTS TURN OUT MANY CEMENT BLOCKS

Manufacture of Building Blocks Is Big Enterprise.

The building of cement blocks at the Dixon state colony has increased to such an extent since its inauguration last winter that it has become an extensive enterprise and one that furnishes employment for a large number of men, many of them patients at the institution. Last winter the state department of welfare authorized the use of one of the colony buildings which was then not in use, for the manufacture of cement blocks. Considerable machinery was shipped to the colony and the cement block plant thoroughly equipped.

Several men were employed in the plant and many of the patients at the institution were given employment in the plant turning out cement blocks which are to be used in the building of other structures and extending the colony. Today the plant is turning out more than 500 of the blocks daily. This department at the colony has received orders during the summer for 108,000 cement blocks to be used in the extensive building property which is planned for the state property and to date between eighty and ninety thousand of the blocks in this order have been supplied. All of the cement blocks required in the proposed building of the moron colony and the new epileptic colony are being supplied from the institution. The cement is hauled from the plant east of the city and a very fine quality of gravel is obtainable from the quarry on the state property.

Methodist Picnic on Labor Day a Success

The Methodist church and Sunday school picnic held at Assembly park on Labor Day was a great success. In the morning the boys played a game of baseball.

A. E. Taylor and Chas. Floto had challenged Rev. Lumsden and Henry Floto for a game of quoits. This was a very exciting game and very close, but was won by Mr. Taylor and Chas. Floto. The winners were then promptly defeated by Blake Grover and Thomas Gullion. Many other games of quoits were played by the men and boys. At noon a picnic dinner was enjoyed by all.

The boys' pole race was a new feature and was won by Myers, Smith, Swartz, Weitzel and Shawger. The Tag of War by two teams of ten men each was won by Chas. Floto team. The girls' 30-yard dash was won by Evelyn Pope and Helen Pollock. The main feature of the day was the baseball game between the young men to Mr. Lumsden's class and the men of H. A. Ahrens' class. The line up was as follows:

ITALIAN GOVT. WORRIED ABOUT LABOR TROUBLE

Metal Workers Have Seized 400 of Largest Factories in Italy.

By Associated Press Telegram Wire

Rome, Sept. 7.—Government officials will open negotiations with the general industrial conference at Milan on Thursday with a view to solving the problem presented by the seizure by workers of metal factories throughout Italy.

It is estimated that 400 of the largest metal works in Italy have been occupied by mechanics and workers, and the movement is still expanding threatening to extend to the extreme southern peninsula.

Manufacturers declare that the wage increases demanded by the 500-000 metal workers employed by them would add a burden that could not be sustained. They point out that Italy pays eighteen times the pre-war price for coal, while England pays only 3 times, America only 3.5, France 8 and even Germany only 11. As a result foreign production is replacing Italian.

SOME QUESTIONS.

Mr. Scribble Scratch, the fairy schoolmaster, made a low bow before the Fairy Queen, and then turned his gaze upon the company. And the company, certainly returned it, for the schoolmaster was a most peculiar person. He was as tall and thin as a birch-rod, only much pleasanter looking, having a mouth that insisted on turning up at the corners, although he tried his best to keep it turned down, to make him look more dignified.

Never Meet 'em!

Fishing is the sport for Jim
And in the dusky eve
Wearily you hark to him.
If you do not believe
The tale of wondrous fish he's caught
And even if you do—
He'll set your sinful doubts at naught
And show the fish to you.

Mr. Vaughn owns 42 dwelling houses.
He rents 41 of them, and—listen to this:
He hasn't raised the rent on a single tenant!

Yes, life often loses not a little of its joy.
This time it is the Bureau of Recreation, Rochester, N. Y., extracting the joy by a little sign like this:
"Patrons of the bathing beach are asked to refrain from kissing while on the beach."

Ben Livingston, traveling salesman, got lost in the weeds on Main street, New Eagle, Pa. Searching party of boys found him.

Every few days you learn something new, don't you?
This happens to be one of those days.
Hampton, England, has enacted a law against canoeing.
What, never heard of canoeing?
Yet you yourself may have been guilty of that fierce crime.
Canoeing, my dear, is nothing worse than, using the words of the Hampton Council, "billion and cooling while canoeing."

A stop must be put to canoeing.
Something ought to be done by the League of Nations.
Or the G. O. P., or the present administration.
It is terrible to think how many young people might be getting fine exercise paddling, or doing something worth while like fishing, and yet they waste their time canoeing.
Hampton takes the leadership in the crusade against canoeing.
Hampton is going to soak 'em good and hard when ever they are caught canoeing.

Frinstance:
Here's the program of punishment for Hampton canoeists:
"Arm around waist, $25; kissing, $50 holding hands, $5; all three, jail sentence."

Sallie George, who is 102 years young, member of the Onondaga Indian tribe, New York, offers to wage a smoke battle with Uncle John Snell, 30 years older than she. Sallie has smoked a pipe—not the same pipe, of course—90 years. John has had more experience. He began burning tobacco 114 years ago.

All of which may interest that distinguished health expert, who writes: "Persons addicted to tobacco do not live as long as those who refrain from the habit."

THE BOOK OF ANN.

ANN HAD SENT BOB TO FIND ME WITH CLAUDE IVES

I choked hard as I watched Bob's car fly along the narrow hill road at a dangerous speed. Evidently my husband had seen that offensive designer of character color schemes making a "close-up" study of my eyes! Evidently Bob had seen—without understanding! Probably he had been gliding down the long hill behind us "on gravity" and over the cliff he had a grand view of me and my companion in the valley, had had plenty of time to behold us lingering in romantic movie fashion among the pink petals and sweet odors of the wild crab trees! Undoubtedly he had misconstrued the situation!

"Bob!" I cried impetuously, desperately; then, as the roadster disappeared around the curve of the hill, I realized how futile my exclamation was. I turned from Ives without a word, without a sign, and headed Baintree homeward.

For a few minutes I heard the hoofs of the other horse pounding behind me, but I knew how Baintree loves to travel when he feels that he has the rider's permission. He pulled away from my pursuer in his best racing style. Presently I turned into the main-traveled boulevard where, in the midst of the crowd, I felt quite alone—free from Ives' free to occupy myself with a wretched unavoidable review of the situation.

My husband had stopped his car just in time to see Ives lean close to me, but Bob had been too far away to discern the fearlessness, the defiance, the harshness in my own eyes!

My glance was a barrier set up before the flattering intinations and the insinuating inflections, the condensed sentiment of Mr. Jacob Smart. I had meant to reprove the man with my frankness, to humiliate him with my coldness, to teach him, without a word, that one well-bred young woman considered him an insufferable cad!

Bob should have expected me to do just that thing. My husband pretending to know me and to value me for the real woman in me, and therefore he should have known that I was not flirting. He should have realized that I was the unwilling victim of an impertinence.

Had he caught a highwayman stealing my purse, he would have rushed away and left me to fate.

He was proceeding in accordance with a certain new and popular cult, perhaps, but that fact did not lessen my indignation.

"A queer notion of chivalry the modern man has!" said myself to myself as I turned into the Lortner park. "A husband gives a wife too much liberty. I think I like better the old way of protecting a woman—even against her will!" Then I laughed a little for in my heart I expected that Bob would be at home awaiting my explanation.

He should have it, in spite of my promise to Chrys to keep our men in ignorance of Ann's follies. We girls had agreed to cure her imprudences, but as things stood, it was my duty to tell my husband how I happened to be with Claude Ives, why I was lingering in such a sentimental attitude, in the most secluded nook in the whole boulevard system.

Passing the pergola covered with huge clumps of wisteria, I descried Ann at a table with her pile of letters.

"Did you see Bob?" she asked sweetly.

"Why—yes—I did!" I stammered in great bewilderment.

Ann folded up a letter and replaced it in its envelope. Then she picked up another and opened it without looking at me.

"I met him," she said with her eyes on the page before her. "I told him—where to find you!"

I threw the bride to the groom who had come up and slid from my horse, feeling terribly weak and tired.

"I guess Bob thought you were alone," Ann concluded in her purry kittenish tone.

I brought my crop sharply against my putts, turned abruptly and walked home.

Ann had played that trick, I decided to punish her for "playing policeman." Once more I asked myself if there lurked beneath Ann's blond loveliness something of the subtle wickedness of Lamia, the snake-woman.

THE REPUBLICAN PRIMARY

Republicanism in Illinois faces a serious crisis in the coming primary election, according to the views of many thinking citizens of the state.

Citizens of Chicago who cannot swallow the Thompson administration and who are best able to judge the quality of the Thompson-Lundin spirit in public affairs, warn downstate voters that the Thompson crowd will do to the state government what they have done to Chicago if allowed to seize control of the capitol at Springfield through the election of their ticket headed by Len Small.

Do we downstate voters need this warning? Isn't Thompson's record in war and peace enough? Does not the daily news report of the frightful condition in the city show what kind of an administration Thompson is responsible for?

We know that Lowden has given Illinois the best administration the state ever had and that his model state government gave him nationwide fame and created a great demand among thinking Americans from coast to coast that he become president. John G. Oglesby, E. J. Brundage, L. L. Emmerson, Fred E. Sterling, George E. Keys, John J. Brown, Stephan A. Day and William B. McKinley are endorsed by Lowden. Most of them were members of the Lowden administration and were a part of the success of that organization. They can be trusted to keep up the high standard of good government set by the retiring Governor. Illinois can trust them than to turn the state over to the Chicago crowd. Good Republicans all over the state should stay away from Thompson's un-American, non-Republican platform.

Lets confine the Thompson-Lundin Tammany to the Cook County boundaries.

ILLINOIS ROAD PLANS

S. E. Bradt, Superintendent of Highways in Illinois, sends out the following bulletin on road work and future plans for road improvement in Illinois in which is suggested a proposition for advancing road development in the state:

This is a question that comes not only to all highway officials but to all people generally who are interested in highway work. It arises largely from present rail transportation conditions which prevent the improving of our system of highways as rapidly as anticipated when the legislation was enacted, and when the people approved the state-wide bond issue in November 1918. It was then expected that at least 800 to 1000 miles of the 4800 miles included in the bond issue system would be improved each year. The bond issue was approved November 5th, 1918. The war was ended a few days later, which appeared to remove the leading obstacles to a rapid progress. It was not expected that in the first year, 1919, the state would reach a maximum of improved mileage, but it was expected that by 1920 the work would be in full progress and the average mileage would be reached.

The conditions which now confront road building and structural work of all kinds, as well as every class of business, are familiar to everybody.

Both cars and locomotives must be built in order to meet the traffic requirements. This cannot be done in a few months but will undoubtedly require a number of years.

This all means that while we cannot proceed with the improvement of this system of roads as rapidly as we had anticipated we must put forth every effort to carry on the work as fast as the situation will permit. It also indicates the desirability of giving relief to the public through the taking over of the entire state bond issue system, including its earth roads, its gravel and macadam roads for state maintenance. Had we been able to improve the system as rapidly as we had hoped this would not have been necessary, but in order that the public may receive the greatest benefit as soon as possible it appears that this policy should now be adopted. This would involve the thorough grading, dragging, and, if possible the oiling of the earth roads. It would mean the surfacing of the gravel and macadam roads where necessary.

This work should be carried on through a patrol system, each patrolman being furnished with equipment in the form of trucks, graders and drags, and put in charge of a patrol district of from twenty to thirty miles, depending upon the character of his work. While much of the work would not be of permanent and lasting value it would bring the roads into better alignment for the hard surfacing which would come as rapidly as the situation would permit.

This work would be accompanied by the erection of markers and directional signs for the convenience of the traveling public. It would require the final location of all the roads on the bond issue system. Of the 4800 miles,

Mr. Scribble Scratch, the fairy schoolmaster, made a low bow before the Fairy Queen, and then turned his gaze upon the company. And the company, certainly returned it, for the schoolmaster was a most peculiar person. He was as tall and thin as a birch-rod, only much pleasanter looking, having a mouth that insisted on turning up at the corners, although he tried his best to keep it turned down, to make him look more dignified.

He then turned to the company and said: "I've been wondering if we haven't found some helpers for you, Scribble Scratch," smiled the Queen nodding toward the children. "These people have had some experience in Fairyland and come highly recommended."

"Hm!" coughed Scribble Scratch pulling the corners of his mouth down. The good news had turned them up at once and he was afraid of looking too pleased.

"Hm!" said he again and this time looked over the tops of his glasses. "That depends on their education entirely. What's the capital of America?"

"Capital A, if you please," answered Nancy timidly.

"A million dollars," put in Nick, who'd heard his father talk business.

"Both right," nodded Scribble Scratch marking in a book. "You're hired."

In 1924 the successful candidate for president will be one who smelled up the curtains in the parlor with his tobacco smoke and who always fixed the bureau drawers so they wouldn't stick. Of the two, we think the bureau drawers are the worst. What home was ever peaceful that had bureau drawers that stuck?

CAMPAIGN SONGS OF LONG AGO

No. 3—James K. Polk and Henry Clay

The torchlight processions in the presidential campaign of 1844 made a tremendous racket with songs about "protective tariff." One of these songs ran:

The gallant Whigs have drawn the sword
And thrown the idle sheath away;
And onward is the battle word,
For Home Protection and Clay!

Clay was the candidate of the old Whig party, which had carried the country in the presidential election four years previously. So Clay's followers boastfully championed their organization as the "same old coon" seeking re-election. Picture them. Their torchlight procession halts. With dripping torches in one hand, they use the other hand to stow away mince turnovers, hot coffee and still hotter hard-cider. Then the procession starts again and the Clay men sing lustily.

The moon was shining silver-bright,
The stars with glory crowned the night;
High on a limb that same old coon
Was singing to himself this tune—
"Get out of my way, you're all unlucky,
"Clear the tracks for Old Kentucky!"

But voters shot the old coon out of his tree and Clay lost. Polk won and his followers celebrated with a post-mortem song

Not a cheer was heard, not a single shout,
As away to the ditch they hurried;
No bank-paid orator rose to spout
O'er the hole where that coon was buried.
So rapidly tumbling him all alone
With his tail's wounded stump quite gory,
They raised a faint shout, 'twixt a cheer and a groan,
And left him alone in his glory.

CAPT. DECKER ASKS RECRUITS FOR NEW FEDERATED MILITIA

Co. F Will Not Be Mustered Out—To Go Into New Guard as a Unit.

To the Editor of The Evening Telegraph:
In reply to the article in The Telegraph of Friday, Sept. 3rd, will say, the officers and a number of the men of Company F are not preparing for their discharges on October 1st as the article states, our latest orders from the Adjutant General are that the right will be accorded state organizations to be mustered out October 1st, 1920, but on this indicated date any such organization which desires to may waive such muster out the order also prescribes the form of enlistment and reenlistment in the reserve militia of which Company F is a unit and also states that the conditions which required the creation and maintenance of the present military forces of Illinois continue and the existence of these troops still remain a vital necessity to the state. Regarding the cause upon the Army this is not held by the federal government but by the State of Illinois and next spring is not its finish. Since there has been a United States we have had as our unsolved problem preparedness, as the occasion has demanded we have been to it unskillfully and extravagantly both as to personnel and material, of course in a state military unit with the limited time consumed in drill the men do not acquire great proficiency in military training but Company F is quite proud of some of the boys who have gone from it to serve in the late world war and others who have entered various colleges where they say their meager military training was beneficial.

Want Recruits.
I have a petition at the army which has been in circulation since July with a number of signers pledging themselves to join a unit of the national guard to be located in Dixon but is short of the required number 5. Now it is up to the citizens of Dixon to show their patriotic spirit and assist in organizing a unit of war and federalized national guard, or Company F in recruiting sufficient men to maintain their organization.

EDGAR J. DECKER,
Captain Co. F.

Miss Tague to Teach at DeKalb Normal

Miss Agnes Tague, teacher in Dixon public schools for several years, has handed her resignation to the Board of Education and has accepted a position as critic teacher in the Department of Training in the State Normal School at DeKalb, Ill.

Miss Tague has been one of Dixon's most efficient teachers and because of her ability and strong personality she won the confidence and friendship of the students, faculty and patrons of the school. For the past few years she has been at the head of the department of History and Geography in the Central school building and her daily appearance before these classes will be greatly missed.

Miss Tague has watched the progress of her students through the grades and high school and will undoubtedly meet some of them in the Normal school preparing for teaching. Although Dixon regrets the loss of Miss Tague, her friends are proud to have her represent them in the state institution and feel that the Normal school is to be congratulated.

BRILLIANT OPERA OF "CARMEN" SEPT. 17

Dixon and vicinity is to have a rare musical treat in the magnificent revival of the Bizet opera "Carmen" which Ralph Dunbar will bring to the Assembly Auditorium Friday night, September 17.

Lorna Doone Jackson, who made such a decided hit last season as "Alma-a-Dale" is "Robin Hood" will sing the role of "Carmen." Mr. Dunbar has surrounded his pretty and talented star with a company of principals and chorus numbering sixty. The production is so large that only cities with ample theater stages are being visited.

"Carmen" is an opera in four acts, Halevy and Meilhac are responsible for the libretto which they adapted from Prosper Merimee's romance. Bizet's score is famous. The opera was first produced at the Opera Comique, Paris, March 3, 1875, with Mme. Galli-Marie in the title role and Mile Chapuy as "Michaela."

With the scenes laid in Seville, "Carmen" is Spanish to the core and is the largest and best considered of all of Bizet's works. The overture is short but very brilliant. Prominent in the first act is "Carmen's" song, the "Habanera" a quaint melody in which the air is taken from an old Spanish song by Iradier, called "El Aveglito." Lorna Doone Jackson is at her best in this act in the rendition of the dance, a seguidilla, which is also sung by

"Carmen" while bewitching "Don Jose." The entire score is in English. The "Toreador" number is the second act is a masterpiece in which "Escamillo" described the bull-fight in fiery lights of song and recitative. In the third act are two very striking numbers, the terzetto of the card-players in the smuggler's haunt and "Michaela's" aria, which is a most effective and beautiful number.

The last act is a hurly-burly of the bull-fight, the "Toreador's" stirring march, the stormy duet between "Carmen" and "Don Jose," and the tragic denouement in which the "Carmen" motive is repeated. In the entire opera the dance tempo is freely used and beautifully worked up with Bizet's scholarly and ingenious instrumentation.

VOTE FOR RICHARD J. BARR FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL At the Republican Primaries Sept. 15

A Champion of Woman's Suffrage for 18 Years in the State Senate—A Fearless Enforcer of the Law
—The Candidate of No
Faction or Clique—His Nomination Will Add
Strength to the Republican Ticket.

Richard J. Barr is ideally fitted—by experience and training—to assume and faithfully discharge the duties of the important office of Attorney General.

He has been engaged in the general practice of law for twenty-five years and has been a member and leader of the Illinois State Senate for the past eighteen years. Without question his record and ability as a law maker give him the qualifications necessary for a law enforcer.

Why the Women Are Supporting Senator Barr

The women of Illinois are supporting Senator Barr for Attorney General because—for the past 18 years—he has championed and led the cause of Woman's Suffrage in the legislature of Illinois. Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout and Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, well known suffrage leaders, have testified to Senator Barr's great assistance in bringing women the vote in this state. Women have their opportunity NOW to show their appreciation of his efforts in their behalf by casting their votes for Senator Barr at the Republican Primaries on September 15th.

Senator Barr's Downstate Popularity

In 1916, when a candidate for the office he now seeks, Senator Barr received a plurality of 48,360 votes in the state outside of Cook County over the candidate who was elected. When the vote in Cook County was counted his opponent was given 51,364 votes in that county over Senator Barr, or a plurality in the entire state of 294 votes. As a result of investigations, however, scores of people believe that Senator Barr was nominated at that time. The present election gives the people of the State the opportunity to MAKE SURE that he is nominated NOW.

Senator Barr is a Candidate of All Republicans and his nomination will be satisfactory to ALL Republicans. In speaking of his candidacy Senator Barr has had this to say: "I ask support from the Republicans of the state wherever they may be. I am not running as a candidate of any clique or faction and if nominated and elected to the office of Attorney General I will discharge the duties of that office to the best of my ability, with fairness and justice to the people of the entire state. Moreover, I will reside at Springfield and run the office of Attorney General from the seat of Government as provided by the Constitution."

YOUR VOTE FOR SENATOR BARR IS A BOOST FOR REPUBLICAN SUCCESS IN NOVEMBER

Barr Will Complete His Down State Triumph of 4 Years Ago

A Tasteless Castor Oil

A remarkable new process, perfected by Spencer Kellogg & Sons, Inc., one of the world's largest manufacturers of castor oil, has made castor oil absolutely tasteless. Strength and purity remain the same. Nothing has been removed but that nauseating taste. This valuable new form of the good old family remedy is strongly recommended by up-to-date doctors and druggists. Children take it without even knowing it is castor oil. Take no substitutes. If you want a really tasteless castor oil, insist on Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil, laboratory bottled, plainly labelled.

Lower California a Land of Rich Mines Fat Cattle, Cotton

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.—Lower California, reported to be in revolt against the present Mexican Government, is described in a communication to the National Geographic Society by Frederick Simpich as follows:

"The long, boot-shaped peninsula that swings down off the left-hand corner of the United States belongs to Mexico and is known on Mexican maps as 'Baja,' or Lower California. Early Spanish maps of America showed California as an island, due, no doubt, to limited explorations of this peninsula.

"Scarcely known as it is to the average American, this 800-mile-long strip of rocks, peaks, brush-grown mesas, and rare, fertile little valleys is a favorite haunt for many Yankee naturalists, fishermen, and big-game hunters; and here and there, in the more favored, well-watered, grassy spots of the higher range, hardy American cattle-men have built their adobe homes, where they enjoy the limitless freedom of vast unfenced areas. The Circle Bar Company of Ojos Negros Ranch runs cattle over a leased territory of two and a half million acres, and a British corporation holds title to something like fifteen million acres.

"Away down at peaceful, picturesque La Paz, where Cortez repaid his schooner and where, centuries later, Walker, the Yankee filibuster, raised his flag, another Yankee today runs a busy little tannery, turning out 600 sides of good leather every day, for an American shoe factory. Here and there, in hill and valley, Americans are delving for metals or growing the staple frijole.

"But the country as a whole, owing to its many desert, waterless areas, is but sparsely settled, and, as one writer says, 'In all its turbulent, romantic history, since the halcyon days when Sir Francis Drake dropped his pirate anchor in Magdalena Bay, no wheeled vehicle has traversed its rough and tortuous length.'

"Rich as are its mines and fat as are its herds of cattle, its chief source of wealth lies in the cotton-growing regions around Mexicali.

Interests Dash At Delta.
"At the Colorado delta, at the head of the Gulf of California, which separates the Lower California peninsula from Sonora, more than at any other point on the whole border, the interests of the United States and of Mexico are closely joined. This is due to the singular topography of that region (part of it is below sea-level) and to the diversion of water from the Colorado River. In the opinion of many irrigation engineers and political students, this peculiarly delicate problem of irrigation water rights, as between planters on the American and Mexican sides of the line, respectively, ly, can be solved satisfactorily only by some joint treaty between the two republics, involving either the fixing of a neutral zone or the sale of a small strip of territory."

Widow Preferred to Meet Death at Home.

"For many years I suffered from stomach trouble. All the doctors I tried helped me but little. All said I would have to go to hospital and be operated on for gall stones or I would not live much longer. I told them I preferred to meet death at home. One day I picked up an advertisement of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and since taking a course of it more than a year ago have not had a single pain in my stomach, have good appetite and can eat anything." LETTER FROM MRS. BRUCE

Tells Remarkable Story of Sickness and Recovery.

Brooksbury, Ind.—"When I was a young girl I clerked in my father's store and lifted heavy boxes which caused displacement and I suffered greatly. I was married at the age of 18 and went to a doctor about my trouble and he said if I had a child I would be all right. After three years twins came to us and I did get all right but three years later a baby boy came and I was troubled again. I could scarcely do any work at all and suffered for four years. A neighbor told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it for a year or more. Now I have a baby girl and do not have any female trouble. You can do anything you like with my letter to help others."—Mrs. J. M. BRUCE, R. F. D. 3, Brooksbury, Ind.
